General Comment

The profits I realize selling covered calls in my IRA help me build my account and will help me make ends meet in the future.

I have the experience to make my own judgments and decisions. No broker or financial advisor is taking advantage of me.

Rather, I use the free market system to freely enter into agreements with other traders just as I do when I do my grocery shopping.

I stand firmly against this regulation designed (supposedly) to "protect" me. Please let freedom of choice and action prevail.

Please allow us to take personal responsibility for our own futures. Allow me the dignity of providing for myself, unfettered by yet another regulation that treats citizens as fools who from their "money will soon be parted."
